

Platform Communications: Launches in Madison

Posted on Monday, Sep 18, 2017

>> WisPolitics is now on the State Affairs network. Get custom keyword notifications, bill tracking and all WisPolitics content. Get the app or access via desktop.

Contact: media@platform-communications.com

Keith Gilkes' latest venture couples advocacy with public affairs and corporate communication strategies

[Madison, Wis.] – Today, Platform Communications, a public affairs, community advocacy and communications strategy firm officially launched in Madison Wisconsin. Founded in early 2017 by Keith Gilkes, a long-time advisor to Governor Scott Walker and countless high-profile officials and projects in the state of Wisconsin, Platform Communications strives to help bridge the gap of understanding between stakeholders on issues and projects impacting our communities.

“Having spent a large portion of my career in and around the halls of government, it became increasingly clear that there is a divide between corporate, government, and community understanding of the issues that matter,” said Keith Gilkes, President and CEO of Platform Communications. “It is the goal of my firm, and my team, to bridge that gap and help open a dialogue between decision makers and those they represent.”

Platform Communications is based in Madison, Wisconsin and has a growing list of clientele in a number of fields that wish to improve their interactions with elected officials and community decision makers, while effectively communicating their objectives to stakeholders and the general public

Gilkes' team at Platform Communications includes Vice President Brian Reisinger, Director of Corporate Communications Nathan Conrad, Director of Public Affairs

Lauren Clarke, and Director of Operations Kathryn Kotowski.

For more information on the firm and to set up a consultation please visit platform-communications.com.