In response to the release of the redacted Mueller report, DNC Chair Tom Perez released the following statement:

“Now that we have seen some of this report, it’s obvious Congress needs to see all of it. Rather than act as the American people’s lawyer, the attorney general has become the president’s lawyer.

“The redacted report paints a stunning picture of bottomless corruption. When a foreign adversary attacked our democracy, Donald Trump and his team were thrilled to reap the benefits. When an investigation was launched to get to the bottom of that effort, he launched a two-year interference campaign to conceal the truth from the American people.

“Donald Trump has spent his entire presidency engaged in a nonstop campaign of obstruction, intimidation, and abuse of power. No one is above the law.”
