

State justices question proposal on redistricting process

Posted on Friday, Jan 15, 2021

Today's Midday episode covers justices appearing skeptical of a conservative-backed proposal to create a process for the state Supreme Court to handle redistricting cases. Stephanie Hoff and Royce Podeszwa discuss the petition, which asks the court to bypass the traditional path through the lower courts.