Wisconsin Women In Government Seeks Professional Women To Join Its Board of Directors

Interested Women Should Apply by June 19, 2017

MADISON – Wisconsin Women in Government (WWIG) today announced it is seeking professional women to join the WWIG Board of Directors for the 2017-2018 year. The all-volunteer board directs fundraising, programs and operations for Wisconsin Women in Government. Board of Directors' terms are for three years, with an option for a 2nd term.

To apply, women should send their resume and a cover letter describing why they would like to join the WWIG Board of Directors by June 19, 2017 to info@WiscWomenInGovernment.org.

"Wisconsin Women in Government is fortunate to be led by some talented women and we are looking for a few new faces to join our board of directors. Join our mission of supporting women pursuing careers in government service," WWIG President Kara Kratowicz said.

The Wisconsin Women in Government Board of Directors is seeking talented women in public service who represent a wide range of skills and interests from throughout the state. Women from all around the state of Wisconsin are encouraged to apply.

While comprised of volunteers, the WWIG Board of Directors is a working board in which members are expected to contribute their talents to a variety of activities such as fundraising, event planning, budgeting and communications, to name a few. The Wisconsin Women in Government is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization and the Board of Directors meets monthly. WWIG board members are also expected to be involved in WWIG's committees and events.

2017-2018 Committee Volunteers

WWIG is also looking for volunteers to join our Gala, Programs, Communications, and Fundraising committee for the 2017-2018 year. Next year will be our 31st Annual Scholarship and Recognition Gala, if you have 1 – 2 hours a month available. Please contact us to assist in our planning of the 2017-2018 year.
