Srenock Campaign: Adds the Champion Group to Campaign Team

Luke Hilgemann and Sean Lansing will serve as campaign's General Consultants

(Reedsburg, Wis.) – The Srenock for Justice Campaign announced Monday it has hired the Champion Group to serve as the campaign's General Consultant for Wisconsin's 2018 Supreme Court race.

"The team at the Champion Group provides our campaign with more than a decade of experience in Wisconsin state and local elections," said Sauk County Circuit Court Judge Michael Srenock. "As we ramp up our efforts and continue to build a diverse coalition of support from across the state, their track record of success in Wisconsin will only help us continue to build momentum and spread our message to voters who believe in the rule of law."

"Judge Srenock is a lifelong Wisconsin resident with a record of upholding the law that is second to none in next year's Supreme Court race," said Hilgemann. "We could not be more excited to work for a judicial candidate who embodies honesty, integrity and fairness and who will under no circumstances legislate from the bench," said Lansing.

Judge Michael Srenock was appointed to the Sauk County Circuit court in 2015 and ran unopposed for election in 2016. He has enjoyed the privilege of serving his hometown in this capacity, and is particularly proud of the work Sauk County's Drug Court has accomplished since its inception last year.

Judge Srenock provides a unique perspective that will be a tremendous asset to the state's highest court. He earned his undergraduate degree in mathematics from the University of Wisconsin-Madison, and received an MBA from Eastern College in Pennsylvania. He worked as a city administrator and as a finance director in the cities of Reedsburg, Washburn, and Ashland, Wisconsin before deciding to go back to the University of Wisconsin-Madison to pursue his Juris Doctor. He worked at Michael Best & Friedrich prior to becoming a judge.

Judge Michael Srenock lives in Reedsburg with his wife. They have three adult children.
