STEVE BOE SECURES SPOT ON BALLOT AS SUPPORT GROWS

Democratic candidate gains district-wide support by listening to people of western WI

Taylor, WI- Democratic candidate for Wisconsin's 31st Senate District, Steve Boe turned in 800 nomination signatures from 57 municipalities across the district to the Wisconsin Elections Commission last Friday, twice the amount required for office.

“People in western Wisconsin agree, we need new leadership in Madison that will fight for our values of supporting public schools, investing in our infrastructure like roads and rural broadband, and ending corporate handouts at the expense of hardworking taxpayers,” said Boe

Boe, 34, grew up on a family farm in western Jackson County. Steve's From Here. For You. campaign is committed to strengthening western Wisconsin by investing in communities, protecting natural resources, and listening to people.

There is a Democratic Primary for the 31st Senate District on Tuesday, August 14.
