Speaker Vos: "Agriculture should be a bipartisan priority."

Madison...Speaker Robin Vos (R-Rochester) released the following statements concerning the governor's executive order on redistricting and special session for farmers.

"I appreciate that Governor Evers is finally recognizing an important part of the state's economy. Agriculture should be a bipartisan priority. That's why I'm frustrated with the fact that he and his lieutenant governor went on a media tour one day before the special session on farmers to promote his executive order on a process that doesn't happen for years. It's sad the governor puts politics first, and people second.

"The Assembly will convene the special session on Tuesday. The special session bills will be introduced and referred to committee. Public hearings will be held.

"Farmers are already telling us the governor's package does more to grow the size of government than actually help our rural areas. We're open to amending the bills or introducing our own proposals in order to do what's best for rural Wisconsin."
