

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Date: March 11, 2020

Contact: (414) 308-2680; info@fieldsformke.com

JASON FIELDS EARNS ENDORSEMENT OF MILWAUKEE BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION TRADES COUNCIL, AFL-CIO IN RACE FOR COMPTROLLER

Labor union says Fields has record of supporting worker issues

MILWAUKEE - Jason Fields, current state lawmaker and candidate for Milwaukee Comptroller, today issued the following statement regarding the endorsement of Milwaukee Building and Construction Trades Council:

“I’m honored to again receive the support of working people from across Milwaukee. Today, the Milwaukee Building and Construction Trades Council pledged their support to help elect me as Milwaukee’s next Comptroller.

“I’ve spent my time in public service doing everything I can to help create good-paying, family-sustaining job opportunities. The Building and Construction Trades Council recognizes my commitment to community and my background in public service as being critical for the future of our city. My support of worker issues and advocating for a higher quality of life will continue as Comptroller.

“We cannot afford to continue the status quo in City Hall. Today, the Building and Construction Trades Council agreed and I look forward to working with them as Milwaukee’s next chief financial officer.”

###

Jason Fields, CCRS, CFEI, is a current member of the Wisconsin State Assembly, a certified financial instructor, and founder and managing director of a venture capital fund in Milwaukee. He is a past chairman of the Assembly Committee on Financial Institutions and current ranking member of the Committee on Community Development. He and his wife, La Tasha Fields, are proud residents of Milwaukee’s Wyrick Park neighborhood. The general election will be held Tuesday, April 7, 2020. To learn more about Jason, visit www.fieldsformke.com