DEMOCRATIC CHALLENGER MALINOWSKI LAUNCHES “CLEAN CANVASSING” DOOR-KNOCKING CAMPAIGN

Unlike most candidates, Jacob releases a strict plan to safely campaign face-to-face

GREENDALE, WI — Today, Democratic candidate for State Assembly Jacob Malinowski launched “Clean Canvassing”, his safety-first 2020 door-knocking campaign.

After monitoring the data in his district and speaking with health experts, Jacob and his team published a comprehensive plan to safely knock on the doors of his neighbors. While most candidates fail to adapt, Jacob’s plan adheres to all local, statewide, and national guidelines.

“While many campaigns have struggled during COVID-19, we’ve spent the last 71 days solving problems and adapting. ‘Clean Canvassing’ is just another way for Jacob to meet people where they’re at and show them that he’s up for the job of state assemblyman,” said Nick Famularo, Jacob’s campaign manager.

“Wisconsinites appreciate when a candidate shows up at their door to listen, and I’ve been ready to hit the pavement since day 1. Now that I feel like I can knock doors safely, I’m excited to meet folks face-to-face -- with six feet of space in-between,” said Jacob.

Jacob’s team will solicit feedback during the first week of “Clean Canvassing” and reevaluate on July 1st.

Jacob is in this race to serve his hometown: his neighbors are sick of do-nothing partisan politics and deserve a new, passionate leader who is willing to put in the work and develop real solutions.
